Greg Shamburg has a record of 233-143 since coming to NOC Enid in 2001. In the 2012-13 season, his Jets posted 22 wins and made a Region II semi-final appearance. Two Conference titles, a Region II Coach of the Year award and three Region II Finals in the last six years have earned the Jets more wins in the Region II Tournament than any other team in the Region.

Shamburg began his coaching career in 1990 at Northern Oklahoma College where he helped the Mavericks win three Bi-State West Conference Championships, two Region II Championships and a school record 28-win season. He has coached and recruited more than 50 Division I players and many of his former athletes have played professionally around the world. His overall coaching record stands at 495 wins and 249 losses.

In 2004-2005 he joined the staff of the Oklahoma Storm and Brain Gates of the United States Basketball League. The Storm won two Conference Championships and Shamburg was named the Assistant Coach of the Year in the league.

Shamburg and his wife Kathi have two children, Addi and Foster.

Zac Howe
Jets alumnus Zac Howe returned to NOC Enid in 2013 to begin his coaching career. As a prep player, he earned Oklahoma All-State honors at Dibble High School before continuing his playing career at Northern Enid. He spent his first season as a redshirt, taking in the game from the sidelines as the Jets earned a Region II Tournament Runner-Up finish. During his second season at NOC, playing alongside All-Americans Wayne Runnels (Creighton University) and Ben Smith (Wichita State University), he helped the squad to a league title and another Region II Tournament Runner-up finish.

After graduating from NOC, Howe continued his playing career at Southwestern Oklahoma State University where he was a three-time Academic All-Conference selection (twice in the Lone Star Conference and once in the Great American Conference) and helped the team to the GAC Tournament championship game in that league’s inaugural season.

Howe earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Business and his Master of Education degree in Sports Management from SWOSU.

Drew Bridges
Drew Bridges joined the Jets basketball program in 2013 to start his college coaching career. As a prep athlete, he played basketball for Head Coach Jesse Herrmann at Andover (Kan.) Central High School. While there, his team played in two state tournaments with one third-place finish. He later became a Student Assistant under Head Coach Gregg Marshall at Wichita State University during the 2011-2012 season.

During his time at Wichita State, Bridges worked with former Jet All-American Ben Smith and was a member of the Missouri Valley Conference Regular Season Championship Team that also played in the NCAA Tournament. He graduated from WSU with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sport Management from the School of Education and was listed on the Dean's Honor Roll for three semesters.

Josh Quintero began coaching the NOC Jets cheer team for the 2010-2011 season. He commenced his coaching career at Cheer Texas, Frank Philips Junior College and Clarendon College and has coached at all levels of cheerleading from high school to college to All-Star cheerleading. During his career he has coached and won multiple national, state and regional championships and more than 20 of his athletes have moved on to cheer at the Division I level.

From 2001-2005, Quintero was Head All-Star Coach at Cheer Texas in Amarillo, Texas where he coached and won more than 40 National Championships. In 2005-2006, he moved to Oklahoma where he and his wife Missy started an All-Star cheer and tumbling gym, Spirit Express. In the same year, Quintero was named one of the top 30 coaches under the age of 30 in the spirit industry.

Since 2006 Quintero has won another 30 national championships with Spirit Express. He is known within the cheer community not only in Oklahoma but also across the country. He has judged and choreographed for some of the top programs in the nation.

In the summer of 2013, the Jets cheer team tied for third place at Cheer Camp for top honors. Being the smallest school at camp and tying with a large Division II team was a great accomplishment. The team received a bid to NCA College Cheer Nationals in Daytona, Florida.

Quintero begins the 2013-2014 season with high expectations as the Jets cheer team plans to travel to the NCA College Cheer Nationals, the most prestigious college cheer national in the country. He expects his team to make it to Finals and place in the Top Five out of 20 teams.

Quintero and his wife have a son, Conner.
