Lectureship set for Tuesday night

Veteran journalist and award-winning war correspondent Mike Boettcher will appear at Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa Tuesday, Sept. 28, as part of the NOC Renfro Lectureship Series.

Boettcher will speak on the U.S. withdrawal of troops from Afghanistan in a speech, "America's Longest War: How we lost our way."

The event is sponsored by the Carl and Carolyn Renfro Endowed Lectureship Program and Northern Oklahoma College.

Tickets may be purchased by credit card by calling 580-628-6214 or in person at the NOC Development Office, Vineyard Library-Administration Building, NOC Tonkawa.

The Ponca City native is recognized as one of the world's most experienced foreign correspondents, covering wars and revolutions in every part of the globe since 1980. He spent four of the past 20 years in Afghanistan covering America's longest war.

Boettcher helped launch the era of 24-hour live news coverage when on June 1, 1980, he performed the first live satellite report for a fledgling network called CNN. In almost four decades of assignments covering global conflict for NBC News, CNN and ABC.

He has witnessed, investigated and been a victim of terrorism himself. He was kidnapped and threatened with execution in El Salvador in 1985.

Boettcher is the winner of six national Emmys and a Peabody award. He is one of five reporters in history to win national Emmy's for three different networks. He teaches journalism at his alma mater, the University of Oklahoma, and serves as a Senior Fellow at the OU Center for Intelligence and National Security.

Former Oklahoma State Regent Carl Renfro and the late Carolyn Renfro established the Carl and Carolyn Renfro Endowed Lectureship Program with a gift in 2006. The primary purpose of the endowment is to provide support to cultivate and enhance the cultural and community enrichment offerings in northern Oklahoma to include lecture and performance series at Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa and in the Ponca City area.

Dr. Harris' Investiture Oct. 29

The investiture for Dr. Clark Harris, the 14th president for Northern Oklahoma College, will be held Friday, Oct. 29, in the Foster-Piper Fieldhouse on the Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa campus at 2 p.m.

The event also coincides with the 120-year anniversary of Northern Oklahoma College.

Dr. Harris assumed the NOC presidency on July 1, 2021 following Dr. Cheryl Evans who held the post for 10 years.

"I feel that through communication, collaboration and community investment we will continue to grow Northern Oklahoma College," Harris said. "NOC is a great institution and I am humbled to have the opportunity to lead the college into the future. My goal is to build on the tremendous success that President Evans and the wonderful faculty and staff have demonstrated at Northern.

"I will spend a lot of time listening to the ideas and suggestions from the students, employees, and community stakeholders," he added. "I am here to enhance our students' opportunities as they develop their pathway to a rewarding future, at the same time building a stronger workforce for our state and particularly Northwest Oklahoma."

The tradition of an investiture officially marks the beginning of a new leader's administration. Sometimes referred to as an "inauguration", the investiture is an academic ceremony held to confer the official power of the office upon a new college president, usually held during their first year in office. An investiture reflects academic traditions, celebrates institutional history, and symbolizes a new era in the life of the institution. The ceremony begins with a formal procession, much like a commencement. The procession includes the individuals in the platform party participating in the ceremony, delegates from the other Oklahoma colleges and universities, and from NOC faculty. Faculty will wear full academic regalia during the investiture procession and ceremony that follows.

The ceremony will include congratulatory remarks from Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, greetings from NOC Foundation Board of Trustees Chair Linda Brown on behalf of supporters of higher education, and the official presentation of the symbols of a high office by president emeritus Dr. Cheryl Evans.

The NOC College Choir and Concert Band will perform. A reception will follow the investiture on the circle lawn just south of Foster-Piper Fieldhouse. The 2 p.m. investiture is open to the public.

NOC is limiting capacity to 70% of the maximum indoor facility seating to ensure possibility of social distancing. The event will be available on Livestream at <https://www.noc.edu/athletics/streaming/noc-events-streaming/>.

The following is a list of the NOC Presidents:
 James Herbert Kelley (1902-1909)
 John P. Alley (1909-1911)
 Lynn Glover (1911-1916)
 W.C. French (1916-1917)
 Richard M. Caldwell (1919-1928)
 Dr. Roscoe Robinson (1928-1939)
 Dr. Loren Brown (1939-1951)

NOC Enid hosts vaccination clinic

Northern Oklahoma College Enid is offering COVID-19 vaccinations Tuesday, Sept. 28 from 9 a.m. – noon at Montgomery Hall inside the Gantz Student Center.

The vaccinations are offered to the NOC and Enid communities.

Clients may choose either the Moderna or Janssen (Johnson and Johnson) vaccine. First and second shots are available as well as a booster for those that are immunocompromised.

The vaccinations are provided courtesy of the Great Salt Plains Health Center.

Face masks and social distancing are strongly encouraged.

Northern Encounters set for October

Northern Oklahoma College has announced three Northern Encounter dates for Fall 2021.

The dates are as follows: Oct. 6 – Stillwater; Oct. 20 – Tonkawa; and Oct. 27 – Enid.

Northern Encounter is designated as a day for high school juniors, seniors, and their parents to get an up-close look at the programs and services that Northern has to offer.

Students will receive free t-shirts and door prizes. They will discover programs, services, clubs and organizations at NOC. They will also meet NOC faculty, students, and take a campus tour.

For more information about Northern Encounter, contact Diana Watkins (580.628.6905), Blair Turney (580.628.6668), or Madison Green (580.548.2353).

'News You Can Use' posted to website

NOC's "News You Can Use" has posted more podcasts this week.

The podcast can be found at <https://www.noc.edu/about-noc/nocnews/news-you-can-use/>.

The podcast, created by Dr. Frankie Wood-Black, Division Chair for Engineering, Physical Sciences, and Process Technology, was funded through a NOC Presidential Partner Grant.

Dr. Wood-Black said the podcast will feature a wide range of topics.

"We hope that individuals will suggest topics and enjoy these podcasts as they are going to be produced by NOC students and faculty," she added.

NOC offers Vaccine Incentive plan

Deadline to participate is Oct. 6

Northern Oklahoma College is offering a COVID-19 Vaccine Incentive Program for students and employees.

“The health of our students and employees in our NOC Family is of critical importance,” said NOC President Dr. Clark Harris. “As the cases decreased this summer many people dropped their guard to COVID-19, although we are learning that the variants have increased transmission rates and that people that are testing positive is back to the November 2020 levels. We have learned that people that are vaccinated are less likely to become infected, and if infected the severity of their illness is greatly reduced.”

“NOC wants to help keep you healthy, keep you learning in the classrooms, and allow you to stay active in college athletics and activities,” Harris added. “We can best accomplish this by having as many people vaccinated as possible at all NOC campuses. We are incentivizing this by creating a COVID-19 Vaccination Incentive Contest.”

A student from each campus of the contest will receive a 65-inch Smart TV and another student will receive a 32-inch Smart TV. One employee from each campus will receive a $500 Pre-Paid Visa while another employee will receive a $200 Pre-Paid Visa.

Students and employees may enter through Oct. 6.

He said the goal of NOC COVID-19 Vaccination Incentive Contest is to substantially increase the number of fully vaccinated people who are teaching, working, learning, socializing, and living on our campuses.
