NOC partners with professionals to assist with academic programs

Northern Oklahoma College welcomed business professionals in nine specific areas Tuesday, Oct. 25 to a meeting with NOC instructors in those academic fields.

The advisory boards meet annually with NOC instructors to discuss the changing workplace and how instructors can better prepare students for the future.

The partnership between the business community and NOC has been going on for many years some as many as 30 years. This was the third year that all nine advisory committees met simultaneously. The advisory committees met for lunch in the Renfro Center and then broke out into individual groups.

The nine areas include Agricultural & Biological Sciences, Alumni, Behavioral Sciences, Business, Criminal Justice, Health, Physical Education & Recreation (HPER), Mass Communications, Nursing, and Pre-Engineering/Process Technology.

NOC President Dr. Clark Harris welcomed the group to NOC saying, "We are so glad you took the time today to be a part of this program. We are so thankful for your partnerships with our institution and we're excited to hear what you have to offer."

Harris said these meetings are critical for NOC to better prepare students for the work place.

"We appreciate your help in creating higher quality programs that help us produce higher quality students," he said. "You help us better prepare our students for the workforce or their transfer to a four-year institution."

Are you an NOC Student or Alum who is also a Veteran?

NOC would be honored to have you join NOC Regent Brad Fox, NOC Alum and Veteran, along with Northern faculty and staff on their float for the Ponca City Veterans' Day Parade.

The parade will be Saturday, November 5, 2022 and begins at 10:45 am. Let us honor you!

To join the NOC Float contact Kayla Wooderson, Director of Alumni and College Relations, at kayla.wooderson@noc.edu or 580.628.6473.

NOC athletic alums came back to Enid for the first annual all-athletic reunion last weekend.

Enid athletic alums celebrate reunion

Approximately 50 former NOC Enid Jets' Athletes and their families attended the first ever athletics reunion Saturday, Oct. 29 at the Gantz Center at NOC Enid.

Former baseball, basketball, cheer, and softball athletes had an opportunity to catch up with teammates, see NOC Enid sports memorabilia and bid on old athletic equipment.

NOC President Dr. Clark Harris welcomed the alums to the event.

"Welcome back to NOC, we're glad you're here," Dr. Harris said. "We appreciate all you have done for NOC and we appreciate your willingness to stay connected to NOC. We hope you have a great day."

Athletic director Alan Foster thanked the alums for coming back for the event saying, "We thank you for coming back today, we ask you to connect to our current student athletes and show them the future. We thank you for sharing your time today and hope this is the first of many athletic alumni events."

Among the alums were members of the Lady Jets Basketball Team coached by Scott Morris.

Alums were treated to a lunch, courtesy of NOC, and then attended practices for the individual sports. The day ended with off-campus activities.

The event was organized by NOC Alumni and Community Relations Director Kayla Wooderson.
