Tour de Quartz Art Exhibit opens in KPAC

Oklahoma high school students are displaying artwork at Eleanor Hays Art Gallery, NOC Tonkawa, from March 2-April 3 in conjunction with the Oklahoma Arts Institute's Tour de Quartz exhibition.

The thirty-eight works featured in Tour de Quartz was created during the 2022 Oklahoma Summer Arts Institute (OSAI), a prestigious arts academy held each summer at Quartz Mountain State Park & Lodge in southwestern Oklahoma.

During their time at OSAI, students are immersed in one of eight artistic disciplines and taught by nationally renowned artists. Former faculty members include winners of the Pulitzer Prize and the Academy, Tony, Emmy, and Grammy awards. Visual artist Marwin Begaye of Norman served as drawing & painting instructor for the 2022 Institute, while Tempe-based photographer Kari Wehrs instructed photography students.

This summer, drawing & painting students received in-depth training in printmaking techniques as well as pastels from guest artist Holly Wilson. In addition to digital photography, students in Wehrs' class explored a variety of historical processes including photograms and cyanotypes. The 2022-23 Tour de Quartz exhibit reflects the students' OSAI experience, with each student artist represented by one piece of artwork.

Students are selected for OSAI through competitive statewide auditions, and every accepted student attends the program on full scholarship. Auditions are held in January and February online and at locations across the state

Eleanor Hays Art Gallery, located in the Kinzer Performing Arts Center, is open 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and during evening and weekend events in the KPAC Auditorium. Admission is free. Contact gallery director Audrey Schmitz at 580-628-6670 or audrey.schmitz@noc.edu for more information. To learn more about the Oklahoma Arts Institute or the Tour de Quartz, visit oaiquartz.org or call (405) 605-7500.

The Oklahoma Arts Institute is a private, nonprofit organization founded in 1977, with a mission to provide exceptional multidisciplinary arts experiences that develop individual talent and inspire a lifelong passion for the arts. In addition to the Summer Arts Institute, OAI administers a series of continuing education workshops for adults every fall.

NOC Enid 'Soaring Into Summer'

Northern Oklahoma College is currently taking applications for "Soaring into Summer" which is being held on the Enid Campus, June 11-16.

Students entering the 8th or 9th grades are eligible to Soar into Summer by exploring the science and technology behind the scenes of a variety of fascinating aerospace applications.

The week-long residential Academy, will have students participating in various activities to learn about the science behind the aerospace industry. Students will be building rockets, testing turbines, touring aerospace related industries in the Enid area, and just having fun exploring science.

The week will include opportunities to explore space using the facilities located at the Enid Campus as well as enjoying typical summer camp activities. This is a summer science exploration academy sponsored by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, the Enid Regional Development Alliance, and other local partnerships.

Dr. Wood-Black, the Academy's Director, and NOC Chair of the Engineering, Physical Science and Process Technology Division, says that NOC has been working with the Enid Community and Industrial Partners to introduce the students to a wide variety of aspects related to the aerospace industry as well as some interesting science. While the week-long schedule has not been finalized, the students will be participating in many hands-on activities and will be able to present and take home their work.

Jeremy Hise, NOC's Vice President for Enid, indicated that the academy is free to the participating students who are selected from the qualifying applications and enrollment is limited to forty students.

Applications are being accepted through March 31, and the application can be found at <https://www.noc.edu/academics/academic-divisions/engineering-physical-science-and-process-technology-division/exploring-renewables/soaring-into-summer/> or more information can be obtained by contacting Dr. Wood-Black at Frankie.woodblack@noc.edu.

Nursing deadline extended to March 31

The Northern Oklahoma College Nursing Program is currently applications for Fall 2023.

The deadline for applications has been extended to March 31.

Applicants must meet minimum program requirements for admission and be accepted to Northern Oklahoma College prior to acceptance in the Nursing Program. Applicants are selected based on qualifications and space availability.

NOC has nursing programs at Tonkawa, Enid, and Stillwater locations. Apply by March 1 for admission on all three campuses for Fall 2023.

PTech deadline extended the March 31

Northern Oklahoma College has announced an extension for this year's applications to the Process Technology Program.

Persons interested in the Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa Process Technology Program focused on the Refining and Processing Industries now have until March 31, 2023 to apply for the fall 2023 semester. Only students who fill out the on-line application will be considered.

Program manager Frankie Wood-Black said the program is limited to 24 students. Wood-Black added the program is available to anyone interested in Process Technology, but they must fill out the application for this program, due to its high demand.

The review process begins in April, and applicants will be notified of the review process. The application may be found at <http://www.noc.edu/ptechapplication>. Once the program is filled for the fall semester, a waiting list will be maintained and individuals may be contacted prior to the beginning of the fall semester should an opening become available.

NOC also has a program designed for individuals seeking employment in the Renewable Energy Fields as well. The Wind Technician program has been growing with many individuals finding employment prior to the completion of their degrees. This two-year program does not require an application. Dr. Wood-Black indicated that classes for this program also will be offered in the fall semester.

However, courses toward either the Process Technology and Wind programs are available during each semester.

Dr. Wood-Black said that the Introduction to Process Technology class does not require acceptance into the program and is available during the Early Summer Session beginning May 15, 2023, as well as other classes that can be applied to these degrees.

Please contact Dr. Wood-Black at Frankie.woodblack@noc.edu or by calling 580-628-6440 if you would like more information about either of these programs.

Nursing Faculty provide their students everyday.

THE DAISY AWARD FOR EXTRAORDINARY NURSING FACULTY
at NORTHERN OKLAHOMA COLLEGE

The DAISY Award for Extraordinary Nursing Faculty was established by The DAISY Foundation in memory of J. Patrick Barnes who died at age 33 from Immune thrombocytopenia (ITP), an auto-immune disease. The Barnes Family was awestruck by the clinical skills, caring and compassion of the nurses who cared for Patrick. They created this international award to demonstrate appreciation to faculty for their commitment and inspirational influence on their nursing students and to say thank you to nursing faculty everywhere.

Volunteers needed for KidWind

Northern Oklahoma College is hosting the State KidWind Challenge on March 25, on the Tonkawa Campus in the Old Gym.

The KidWind Challenge is a hands-on competition that will have students design, construct and test small scale wind turbines and solar structures.

Set up for the event will be on Friday, March 24, and the event will run from 9 a.m. on March 25 to 2:30 p.m.

The event organizers are looking for volunteers to assist with the event. Students looking for some community service learning opportunities, or just want to have some fun can contact Ms. Kathy Jackson, our Wind and KidWind Coordinator at Kathryn.Jackson@noc.edu.
