

Distinguished Alumni event set for April 6

Northern Oklahoma College alumni Dr. Michelle (Jeffries) Keylon and Scott Morris will be inducted into the NOC Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame April 6 at NOC Tonkawa.

Dr. Keylon, Class of 1992, and Morris, Class of 1991, will be honored in ceremonies taking place during the NOC Alumni and Friends Reunion Dinner in the Renfro Center at NOC Tonkawa at 5 p.m. on Saturday, April 6.

The public is invited to the event and all NOC Alumni and Friends of the college are encouraged to attend, according to Kayla Wooderson, director of alumni and community relations. The deadline for reservations is March 15. Reservations are required; the $25 payment for the dinner event may be paid in advance.

NOC will recognize the Class of 1974 as well as the Nursing Classes of 1974, 1999, and 2014. In addition, the NOC Roustabouts Program will be recognized to celebrate 60 years of the program.

For reservations or for more information, contact Wooderson at 580-628-6473 or e-mail kayla.wooderson@noc.edu. To make reservations online, visit www.noc.edu/alumni and then click on "Alumni and Friends Reunion Form."

Dr. Michelle (Jeffries) Keylon

Dr. Michelle Keylon was born and raised in Tonkawa, Oklahoma. After graduating from Tonkawa High School in 1990, Michelle immediately went on to Northern Oklahoma College. As a first-generation college student, she found the support and guidance through NOC to build a strong academic foundation that would carry her through her post-graduate degree. Michelle graduated from NOC in 1992 with an Associate of Science, followed by earning a Bachelor of Science in Secondary Education - Business Professions from Oklahoma State University in 1994.

After working several years as a classroom teacher, she earned a Master of Science in Occupational & Adult Education from Oklahoma State University in 2000. Michelle later achieved a Doctorate of Education in Instructional Leadership from North Central University in 2014.

For almost three decades, Michelle has focused her work on career and technical education, workforce development and economic development. She started as a classroom teacher in 1996 at Okmulgee High School. The following year, Michelle began teaching at Green Country Technology Center, also in Okmulgee.

Dr. Keylon left the classroom to join the Oklahoma Department of Career and Technology Education in 2000. She was the State Program Administrator for vocational business, marketing, and information technology programs. She was responsible for strategic leadership, program development and provided support to numerous educational programs across the state, ensuring they met the highest standards of quality and accreditation.

In 2005, she was given the opportunity to join Francis Tuttle Technology Center as the Director for Information Technology Programs. Over her 19-year tenure at Francis Tuttle she has taken on the roles of Adult Career Development Director, Executive Director of Instruction, Assistant Superintendent of Instruction, and Deputy Superintendent. In 2019, she became the fourth superintendent of Francis Tuttle. Her role has been to provide leadership for program development, curriculum design, instructional delivery, and staff development. Her leadership extended to emergency operations planning, strategic planning, budgeting, staffing and culture development. As the superintendent, she maintains a relentless pursuit of excellence, a dedication to students and educators, and a commitment to educating the future workforce.

Keylon's family includes her partner, Jason Orr, her son Kolton, who is currently a junior at Oklahoma State University majoring in Geology and her daughter Kinley who is a junior at Deer Creek High School. Family members in Tonkawa include her grandmother Kathleen Jeffries-Stone, her brother Darrin Johns and his wife Shelly along with aunts, uncles and cousins, including Karri Morrill. Michelle's parents Chet and Kay Jeffries live in Guthrie and her

Scott Morris

Scott Morris, a Tonkawa High School graduate, earned his Associate of Science degree from Northern Oklahoma College in 1991.

After a stellar career at Tonkawa High School, he followed the footsteps of his father, Gilbert Morris, and played basketball for the Northern Oklahoma College Mavericks.

After finishing his two-year career at NOC, Morris continued his playing career at the University of Science and Arts in Chickasha where he played both basketball and golf.

Morris then returned to NOC as the men's assistant coach under Mick Weiberg from 1993-95.

While earning his Master of Education degree at UCO he served as an assistant coach for Dan Hays at Oklahoma Christian University. He then returned to NOC Tonkawa in 2000 for one season as the women's assistant coach under Greg Krause before being named the first head coach of the NOC Enid women's basketball program in 2001.

Morris and wife Summer then moved to Enid where he started the NOC Enid program from scratch and coached the Lady Jets from 2001-2020. He also taught Math at NOC Enid.

Over 19 years at NOC Enid, Morris' teams would accumulate 456 wins (averaging 24.0 wins per season), 12 conference championships, 12 NJCAA All-Americans, four Region-2 Championships and five National Tournament berths.

The Lady Jets reached Final Four appearance in 2011. The Lady Jets also achieved academic excellence by winning four NJCAA national academic titles and two runner-up finishes with over fifty individual academic All-Americans.

Morris and wife Summer currently live in Stillwater where he coaches the Stillwater High School Boys Basketball Team. They have three children Bryce, 22, Brennen, 19, and Avery, 14.

The event registration will be held from 4:30 p.m. – 5 p.m. in the Renfro Center lobby with dinner at 5 p.m. in the banquet room The NOC Roustabout Benefit Show will follow the dinner at 7:30 p.m. at the KPAC at a cost of $10 per ticket.

Vanessa Adams-Harris speaks at Black History Month program in Enid

Vanessa Adams-Harris, Director of Outreach and Alliances at the John Hope Franklin Center for Reconciliation, spoke at NOC Enid Thursday morning as part of Black History Month. The event was organized by Dr. Mary Ann McCoy, chairman of the NOC Diversity Committee. Adams-Harris, a member of the Muscogee (Creek) Nation from Beggs, Oklahoma, is an actor, artist, producer and documentary film maker among several other talents. She is also a human rights activist, a peacemaker and the vice-chair of the Greater Tulsa Area Indian Affairs Commission and president of North Tulsa Historical Society. Most of all, she is a historian. She told the story of John Hope Franklin, an Oklahoma native who became a historian of Black History writing the generational 1947 book, "From Slavery to Freedom," one of the most read works in the academic field. He taught over three million students in his lifetime. When Adams-Harris met Franklin, he told her to, “investigate everything and ask questions and most importantly to tell history like you find it.”

“There is no such thing as Black History or Native American History, it’s American history,” she said.

Franklin, native of Rentiesville, Oklahoma, attended high school in Tulsa, then Tufts University in Tennessee, and finally Harvard where he earned a PhD in 1941. He taught at a number of universities including Duke and the University of Chicago. He received the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 1995.

He also advised presidents Bill Clinton and Barack Obama.

The John Hope Franklin Center is located in the Greenwood District in Tulsa. Franklin’s father was killed in the Tulsa Race Massacre of 1921.

“Center allows for people just to take a walk and think” she said.

Adams-Harris will return to Enid in June as part of the Chautauqua Teacher Institute where she will portray Rosa Parks.

NOC’s Candy Oller presented gifts to Adams-Harris, Interim President Diana Watkins closed the event by reiterating Adams-Harris words, “tell history like you find it.”

The program started with a rendition of “Lift Every Voice and Sing,” the Black National Anthem.

Free tax prep available at NOC Tonkawa

Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa is providing free basic income tax return preparation for students, NOC employees, and area residents every Thursday starting Feb. 8 at NOC Tonkawa.

Singles or families making less than $64,000 per year qualify for the free service.

Trained tax preparers from the NOC Business Division and area volunteers will be available for tax assistance each Thursday beginning Thursday, Feb. 8. Taxpayers also have an option to prepare their own basic federal and state tax return using the free e-filing software.

Cara Beth Johnson, Business division chair said, “This is a great opportunity for our students to provide a community service and gain tax preparation experience.”

The Cultural Engagement Center (CEC) is hosting the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program every Thursday through April 11. The CEC will be closed March 18-22 for spring break and for inclement weather. The CEC is located in the Vineyard Administration/Library building.

Interested parties need to bring a photo ID for all filers; Social Security cards and birthdates for taxpayer, spouse, and dependents; W-2 forms; 1099 forms; receipts for childcare costs, education expenses, and other deductions; checking account and routing number for refund; and 1095-A, -B, or -C healthcare coverage or exemption.

Tax preparation is done by appointment only. Please contact Cara Beth Johnson at 580.628.6340 or carolyn.johnson@noc.edu. Tax preparers are available from 5 p.m. - 8 p.m. No drop off’s will be accepted, individuals must be present during tax preparation.

Northern Oklahoma College and the IRS are sponsoring the program.

Samantha Johnston awarded Nevona Kegans Athletic Training scholarship

Samantha Johnston, a Northern Oklahoma College Athletic Training student from Fairfax, Oklahoma, is the recipient of the Nevona Kegans Scholarship, announced Thursday night.

The Nevona Kegans scholarship is presented annually to an Athletic Training student attending the NOC Tonkawa Campus.

Kegans, a 1961 alumna of Northern Oklahoma Junior College; was a member of the Mavettes, the Women's Basketball Team and served as dorm proctor in Easterling Hall. Nevona returned to her alma mater in 1963 where she served in many capacities within the athletic and student affairs department. She was instrumental in establishing the athletic training program at Northern and retired as dean of women and HPER division chair after serving the institution for 40 years. Nevona's commitment to Northern and continued support will provide students a chance to pursue their higher educational goals at Northern Oklahoma College.

Johnston is the 7th recipient of this award and is receiving a $500.00 scholarship. Joining Johnston on the court this evening are her parents Hank and Shana Johnston.

Nevona Kegans Bossert presented the scholarship award assisted by Diana Watkins, Interim President; Sheri Snyder, Vice President for Development and Community Relations; Athletic Trainer Summer McClure and HPER Division Chair Suzi Brown.

Applications for the NOC PTech Program due March 15 but classes start soon

Applications for the Process Technology Program are due March 15, but students can get started on a career change now.

Students interested in the Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa Process Technology Program focused on the Refining and Processing Industries have until March 15, 2024 to apply for the Fall 2024 semester. Only students who fill out the on-line application will be considered.

Program manager Frankie Wood-Black said the program is limited to 24 students. Wood-Black added the program is available to anyone interested in Process Technology, but they must fill out the application for this program, due to its high demand.

The review process begins in April, and applicants will be notified of the review process. The application may be found at <http://www.noc.edu/ptechapplication>.

edu/ptechapplication.

Once the program is filled for the fall semester, a waiting list will be maintained and individuals may be contacted prior to the beginning of the fall semester should an opening become available.

NOC also has a program designed for individuals seeking employment in the Renewable Energy Fields as well. The Wind Technician program has been growing with many individuals finding employment prior to the completion of their degrees. This two-year program does not require an application. Dr. Wood-Black indicated that classes for this program are available for Spring 2024.

Please contact Dr. Wood-Black at Frankie.woodblack@noc.edu or by calling 580-628-6440.
