Prospective NOC students on campus Wednesday morning

Northern Oklahoma College Enid is hosting a Northern Encounter recruiting event on Wednesday, Feb. 14, from 9 a.m. – 11 a.m. at Montgomery Hall.

There will be door prizes, campus tour, meetings with faculty and staff, and a drawing for tuition waivers.

According to Vice President Jeremy Hise, this event will be student-centered with prospective students meeting NOC students as well as faculty and administrators.

Prospective students will rotate among several locations on the Enid campus including the Mabee Center, Bivins Chapel, Mackie Planetarium, Nursing Skills Lab, and the Gantz Center.

They will learn about academic options, scholarships, financial aid, student employment, extra-curricular activities, tutoring, and residential housing.

Registration is from 8:45 a.m. – 9 a.m. with the event ending at 11 a.m. Students can register for Northern Encounter at <https://www.noc.edu/students/future-students/>.

For more information contact NOC Enrollment and Recruitment Office at 580-548-2275. NOC Enid campus is located at 100 S. University.

Faculty Profile: Dean Percy

by Misty McBlair
Red & Silver Review Editor

Meet Dean Percy.

He is the Mass Communications Instructor at the NOC (Northern Oklahoma College) Tonkawa campus and although his office is in Tonkawa, he also teaches students at the NOC Enid campus and at the University Center (UC) in Ponca City plus online students all via zoom.

He is also the General Manager of KAYE-FM 90.7 Radio on the Tonkawa campus.

He grew up in Ponca City, and realized he wanted a career in Mass Comm during his junior year in high school. After high school, he received his associate degree from NOC in 1985. He then received his bachelor's degree from NWOSU in 1998 and worked for KPNC radio in Ponca City.

Being an enthusiastic fan of music is a plus when going into this field. He loves several genres of music such as classic rock, country, and blues. He also loves live music if it is in tune. Percy has a son, Josh, and a daughter, Megan. He also has two granddaughters, 5-year-old Iris, and Lily 5 weeks old.

He loves to listen to JAKE FM's morning show and some of his favorite influences include, Keith Morrison of 20/20 and Dateline, George Carlin, Paul Harvey, and Casey Kasem who hosted the American top 40.

Percy was asked why he chose this field?

His reply, "Because it is ever changing, news is different daily, music changes up often and being on the radio made it nice to be able to hear new artist's before they went on the air."

When asked about future degrees for student's, his reply, "This is an ever changing ever evolving career with more jobs behind the scenes that will continue on into the future and it will continuously change and be available."

The last question asked was, what makes an exceptional Journalist and Radio personality in your opinion? Percy's reply, "The drive to find the truth and tell the story."
