

Presidential investiture set for Jan. 14

The investiture for Diana Morris Watkins, the 15th president for Northern Oklahoma College, will be held Tuesday, Jan. 14, 2025, in the Kinzer Performing Arts Center on the Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa campus at 3 p.m.

Watkins assumed the NOC presidency on June 1, 2024.

"This ceremony is a chance to celebrate the rich traditions of Northern Oklahoma College and to honor the incredible leaders who have held this role prior to the NOC Board of Regents entrusting it to me," Watkins said. "I am so grateful for the opportunity to lead our outstanding faculty, staff and executive team as we seek to provide Life Changing opportunities for students and help develop them into effective learners and leaders who will make positive contributions to Oklahoma's workforce."

Diana Morris Watkins became the 15th President of Northern Oklahoma College on June 1, 2024.

She began her career in education teaching high school English in Ardmore, Oklahoma. Her move to post-secondary education came in 2000 when she joined the Oklahoma State University Honors Program, now Honors College, as an academic counselor before spending four years as an "early childhood educator," taking on the role of full-time mom until her daughter began pre-K.

Watkins's tenure at NOC began as an Adjunct Instructor in the Language Arts Department on the Stillwater campus in 2005. In 2007 she was named the Distinguished Adjunct Faculty Member for NOC Stillwater. After joining the Language Arts Department full-time in 2007, she was named the Distinguished Faculty Member for NOC Stillwater in 2009.

In 2019 she made the move to administration, taking on the role of Vice President for the Stillwater campus, which houses the NOC/OSU Gateway Program. In 2022 she was named Vice President for Academic Affairs for Northern.

Extremely passionate about student success, Watkins served on the task force that developed NOC's First-Generation Mentor Program, a program designed to assist students who are the first in their families to attend college. She has presented at numerous conferences, including the National Association of Developmental Education Conference and the National Collegiate Honors Council Conference. Watkins currently serves on the Oklahoma State Regents' Campus Safety & Security Task Force.

A proud graduate of Perry High School, she went on to earn an Honors Program Bachelor's Degree in Secondary English Education from Oklahoma State University where she also earned her Master's Degree in Teaching Learning and Leadership and is currently a doctoral student in Higher Education and Student Affairs.

Watkins enjoys practicing yoga, running, reading, and attending sporting events, concerts, and theatre performances. Her daughter, Emma, an NOC alumni and graduate of Moun-ty Holyoke College, works as a visitor services associate and copy editor at the Oklahoma Hall of Fame and is a communications fellow for the Keats Shelley Association of America.

The tradition of an investiture officially marks the beginning of a new leader's administration. Sometimes referred to as an "inauguration", the investiture is an academic ceremony held to confer the official power of the office upon a new college president, usually held during their first year in office. An investiture reflects academic traditions, celebrates institutional history, and symbolizes a new era in the life of the institution. The ceremony begins with a formal procession, much like a commencement. The procession includes the individuals in the platform party participating in the ceremony, delegates from the other Oklahoma colleges and universities, and from NOC faculty. Faculty will wear full academic regalia during the investiture procession and ceremony that follows.

The NOC College Choir and Concert Band will perform. A reception will be held at the Renfro Center following the event.

The event will be available on Livestream at

Veterans honored at Enid program

Northern Oklahoma College hosted their annual veteran’s tribute at the Enid campus on Monday, Nov. 11, at the Gantz Center.

George Pankonin, United States Air Force Retired, addressed NOC students, faculty, staff, and veterans at the Monday ceremony on “A Legacy of Loyalty and Service.”

Pankonin served in the Air Force from 1970 -1993. Pankonin served as an enlisted Airman from Nov. 18, 1970, to Sept. 28, 1978. Before earning his bachelor’s degree, and attending officer training school, Pankonin attained the rank of staff sergeant. His final assignment on active duty was as the 3345th Supply Squadron commander at Chanute Air Force Base, Illinois. He has served as the president of the 4RKids Foundation, an organization he helped form provides educational, vocational and athletic opportunities for developmentally disabled Oklahomans. He was also the chairman for the Greater Enid Chamber of Commerce’s annual Enlisted Appreciation Night at Vance Air Force Base, Oklahoma, and is the Vance Retiree Activities Office director.

He said that veterans are not just soldiers in combat but also work in warehouses, drivers, mechanics, cooks, and many other jobs similar to civilian jobs.

Pankonin gave a number of examples of individuals who served in the military but also continued to serve past their military careers including pilots adding, “You can serve your community in the armed services but you can serve your community in so many ways.”

Dr. Mary Ann McCoy, NOC instructor and chairman of the NOC Diversity Committee, introduced the program.

NOC Dean of Students Ryan Paul introduced Pankonin, who is the former mayor of Enid.

NOC Vice President for Enid Jeremy Hise presented a collection of gifts to Pankonin for speaking at the event.

“We thank Mr. Pankonin for your speaking today and for your long-term support of Northern Oklahoma College,” he said. “You have been a friend to NOC.”

NOC President Diana Morris Watkins closed the event.

“Thank you for your service,” she said to all the veterans. “Thank you, Mr. Pankonin, for sharing so many great stories today that show us how we can serve our country in so many different ways. We are so grateful for your service. Remember the challenge given to us that as we make memories each day, they are memories of loyalty and service.”

Dr. McCoy also presented “America’s White Table,” a tribute to missing soldiers.

Cynthia Smith Regent, Daughters of the American Revolution, played each service song with veterans recognized for each service branch. Each veteran was also presented a pin by NOC Enid President Leadership Council students.

The program concluded with the playing of “Taps.”

The NOC Fellowship of Christian Athletes had an Amazon and Walmart gift card fundraiser for a family in Blackwell that provides needed items for foster care families as well as families that children are returned to them from foster care. FCA was able to collect $1410 in gift cards to buy items such as bedding, diapers, bottles, and other helpful items for these families in Kay County. Thank you to all students, faculty and staff that donated to this project. Pictured are Andrew and Rachel Campbell who received the gift cards, Christi Hook FCA sponsor, and several FCA members.

NOC receives clean audit report at board of regents meeting

Northern Oklahoma College received a clean audit report at the November Board of Regents meeting in Enid on Wednesday.

The external audit, performed by Hinkle & Company, PC, of Tulsa, audited the college's financial statements for the year ending June 30, 2024. The report was given by Kirk Vanderville.

"Our job is to express an opinion based on the financial statements provided," he said. "We are happy to report we have a clean unmodified opinion on financial statements, a clean opinion on internal controls with no deficiencies noted, and a clean opinion on compliance with federal programs."

"The process went smooth this year," he added. "You (NOC) were one of the better clients we work with. You did a great job this year providing timely information and supporting documentation. Your financial statements also look really good. You have increases in net position and an increase in cash which are the two areas I like to highlight."

President Diana Morris Watkins commented on the audit.

"I am extremely pleased with the findings of this external audit which are a testament to the diligent work Vice Presidents Simpson and Snyder and their teams do together in the daily management of Northern Oklahoma College's financial resources," she said.

"I'd like to thank our employees in finance, financial aid, and scholarships for their assistance during this process," said Anita Simpson,

Vice President for Financial Affairs. “It takes a lot of employees to help with this process. We have a lot of hard-working people who do their best to do things the right way.”

“Congratulations on a clean audit,” said regent chair Jason Turnbow.

In other business, the regents performed the following actions:

Approved the academic calendar for 2024-25, approved the financial report for October 2024, approved two monthly purchases over $25,000. They include a roof repair at the Zollars Library in Enid and new roofs for NOC rental properties in Tonkawa. The regents also allocated funds for the branding of four new recently purchased vans.

In administrator updates, vice presidents made their reports to the regents.

Vice President for Academic Affairs Dr. Shelly Mencacci reported that NOC is receiving two grants from the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education ($15,000 each) to be used in developing micro credential programs (specialized training) aimed for adult learners. They are Cinema Set Construction for Fine Arts and Spanish for Health Care Workers.

Vice President for Development & Community Relations Sheri Snyder reported the First-Gen/First Choice Campaign was held Nov. 8. The campaign raised nearly $10,000 and an anonymous donor has matched those fund-raising efforts with another $20,000 making a total of $30,000 for the program.

Jeremy Hise, Vice President for Enid, reported that President Leadership Council students traveled to Tulsa visiting the Greenwood District. He said the trip was very enlightening and educational for students.

Vice President for Enrollment Management Dr. Rick Edgington reported to the regents the initial spring enrollment report which shows a preliminary increase in head count and credit hour production. He also provided a 15-year enrollment report for NOC at all campuses highlighting enrollment trends.

Anita Simpson, Vice President for Financial Affairs, reported on the economic impact of NOC for the college service area. She said that NOC pays $11 million in salaries that boost the local economy.

Dr. Marsh Howard, Vice President for Stillwater, reported that NOC Stillwater held a Northern Encounter recruiting event with 33 students attending. He said that surveys with those potential students showed a positive impression of NOC for those students.

Vice President for Student Affairs Jason Johnson reported the first wrestling duals were held Oct. 30 with more duals in the future. He said that NOC is glad to have wrestling back on the Tonkawa campus.

In the president’s report, Diana Morris Watkins reported the NOC Executive team had the opportunity to hear from OSRHE Chancellor-Elect Sean Burrage in Enid.

“We are super excited about his leadership for higher ed in Oklahoma,” she said.

The December meeting will be held in Tonkawa in the Presidents’ Large Conference Room at 2 p.m. on Dec. 11.

Life changing.
