

2018-2019 FactBook

Life changing.

Introduction

The Northern Oklahoma College Fact Book is a collection of institutional data put together to provide information to those who make decisions, write grants, need institutional data for accreditation purposes, and to the general public interested in the institution. The Fact Book is intended to be a snapshot of the collective institution, including data from all three of Northern's locations with data and information updated in July of the year reported. The Fact Book, now in its sixth year, is an annual publication that is intended to grow into a longitudinal study of the institution which gives the reader a history of Northern in previous years.

The data presented in the Fact Book was obtained either from certified data sources, such as IPEDs, or from campus databases. All years, unless otherwise indicated, follow the IPEDS reporting schedule of summer, fall, and spring for that academic year. Thus any year containing data for AY – 2018 includes summer 2018, fall of 2018 and spring of 2019. If the data is collected from a source other than those previously indicated, the source will be reported with the data. Realizing there may be gaps in information, it is requested that Fact Book readers provide feedback so that the future publications may include that information. If any questions arise, please contact the Office of Institutional Research.

About NOC

History of NOC

Through the efforts of the Honorable James H. Wilkin, on March 1, 1901, the Oklahoma Territorial Legislature passed an act appropriating money to establish University Preparatory School at Tonkawa. Wilkin also obtained an endowment of land for the school. Consequently, Central Hall was constructed, a faculty employed, and other essentials of an educational institution provided. In September 1902, the doors of the new school swung open to prospective students. Two hundred and twenty-seven young men and women enrolled; thus opened the colorful history of one of Oklahoma's most important and picturesque educational institutions.

As the curriculum expanded and the enrollment increased, new equipment and other facilities became necessary. An act of Congress dated June 2, 1906, provided for the donation to the school of a section of land adjoining the city of Tonkawa. Proceeds from the sale of this land were to be used to provide additional buildings. A similar act of 1909 granted another tract of land for the same purpose. Harold Hall and Foster-Piper Fieldhouse were erected and paid for with the funds secured from the sale of these lands.

The college department was established in 1921, and the institution became a fully-accredited junior college. By an act of legislature in 1941, the name was changed to Northern Oklahoma Junior College. Further changes were made by the state legislature in 1965 with the passage of the Higher Education Code. This new statement of law changed the institution's official name to Northern Oklahoma College. Its three-man Board of Regents was expanded to five and given added authority and freedom in conducting institutional affairs.

In June 1999, Northern purchased the grounds and buildings of the Phillips University campus in Enid. Phillips University, a private institution established in 1907 by the Disciples of Christ, had closed its doors in August 1998. The purchase of the campus allowed Northern to expand its services to its Enid students and to provide for growth of its academic, student and community programs.

In 2001, Northern Oklahoma College celebrated the centennial anniversary of its founding, and, with the beginning of the fall 2002 semester, entered its second hundred years of providing quality education to students. The history of the institution is unique in the annals of higher education.

In August 2003, Northern joined in a partnership with Oklahoma State University to expand educational opportunities for college bound students in Oklahoma. The partnership allowed Northern to expand its services to its Stillwater students.

Tonkawa

The Tonkawa campus, established in 1901, serves as the administrative center for Northern. All program oversight in academic, financial, student service, personnel, development, physical plant, and information technology is housed in Tonkawa. Over 1,500 students attend class on site, by ITV, or via online. Offering over 20 distinct degree paths with over 40 degree options and an array of courses, Northern distinguishes itself as a leading community college in Oklahoma.

Enid

The Enid site was established in 1999 in conjunction with the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education (OSRHE) and the City of Enid. This site has grown in offering multiple two-year liberal arts degree programs to some 800 students each semester. The Enid site continues to expand its faculty, curriculum, and numerous clubs and activities.

Stillwater

The Stillwater site, established in 2003, serves multiple missions to area students. Primarily a Gateway Program, the Stillwater site serves students who would otherwise not be admitted to Oklahoma State University. The site, however, also admits students seeking general education courses that transfer to other comprehensive colleges and universities. Northern Stillwater admits approximately 300 new students each fall and spring semester, serving some 1,700 students. March 2017, ground was broken for a New Classroom Building completed in August 2018.

NASNTI Title III Grant

Northern Oklahoma College was awarded a Title III NASNTI grant in 2016 for $1,749,975 to develop programs and services to support Native American and low-income student needs. The NASNTI project titled “Merging Traditions and Technology: Engaging Native American and Low Income Students to Complete College” has three initiatives: expanding access to high-demand, high-quality courses; developing and improving online services; and developing support for Native American Student success.

In Year 2 of the grant, NOC again met our annual performance measures. Students participated in a variety of pilot projects including enrolling in the newly certified Quality Matters business courses, participating in online financial aid advising, and receiving mentoring from Native American professionals. Northern Oklahoma College collaborated with six area tribes to create access sites at area tribal education centers. During Year 2 of the grant, NOC installed three laptop computers and an interactive television (ITV) system so students can locally access NOC online and ITV courses. The grant staff (Distance Learning Specialist, Native American Student Success Specialist, and NASNTI Grant Director), financial aid staff, and NOC Native American Student Advisor conducted onsite enrollment events at the tribal education centers.

The grant reached a major milestone by offering culturally aligned tutoring and coaching to all first-time freshmen. Over 65% of Native American students took advantage of the pilot program exceeding the 60% needed to meet the performance measure. The grant indicated only first-time full-time freshmen should receive coaching, but NOC believed all Native American freshmen would benefit. The NOC NASNTI grant hopes to see an impact on graduation rates in Year 5 of the grant when the cohort class from Year 2 has progressed through their coursework.

With ever-tightening state funding, NOC’s resource allocations are directed at vital academic services. Over 60% of NOC’s budget supports instruction, student support, academic support, and scholarships. The NASNTI grant has been instrumental in filling in the gaps for Native American and low-income student academic services and improving our distance education course offerings.

High-Impact Strategies

NOC participates in Oklahoma and national initiatives in alignment with Complete College America goals for students retention and completion of degrees, including the following:

- Offering co-requisite models in English composition and math that allow students to begin earning college credit with the support of concurrent remedial support sections.
- Designing degree sheets with math courses aligned with the program of study.
- Providing a semester-by-semester recommended course sequence for all degrees.
- Tracking program-specific learning outcomes for all degrees and for general education competencies.
- Offering students applied learning experiences through internships, job shadowing, and service learning.
- Evaluating key performance indicators to determine which courses and programs have the highest success rates.
- Utilizing an Early Alert System to identify students who are struggling and help them access needed resources.
- Creating articulation agreements with partner institutions for 2 + 2 degree plans and smoother transfer.
- Working with partner institutions to aid students who transfer without a credential in earning that degree through reverse transfer.
