The Ponca City native is recognized as one of the world's most experienced foreign correspondents, covering wars and revolutions in every part of the globe since 1980. He spent four of the past 20 years in Afghanistan covering America's longest war.

Boettcher helped launch the era of 24-hour live news coverage when on June 1, 1980, he performed the first live satellite report for a fledgling network called CNN. In almost four decades of assignments covering global conflict for NBC News, CNN and ABC.

He has witnessed, investigated and been a victim of terrorism himself. He was kidnapped and threatened with execution in El Salvador in 1985. Twenty years later, he survived a suicide bomber attack and a roadside bombing in Baghdad. Boettcher covered the emergence of modern terrorist tactics in the early 1980's in Lebanon when the U.S. Marine barracks was bombed, killing 241.

Since 1998, when the U.S. embassies in Africa were bombed, he has been assigned to investigate every major Al Qaeda attack against American targets. In 2000 he created and directed the CNN Terrorism Investigation Unit and led the networks investigation of the 9-11 attacks.

Boettcher is the winner of six national Emmys and a Peabody award. He is one of five reporters in history to win national Emmy's for three different networks. He teaches journalism at his alma mater, the University of Oklahoma, and serves as a Senior Fellow at the OU Center for Intelligence and National Security

Former Oklahoma State Regent Carl Renfro and the late Carolyn Renfro established the Carl and Carolyn Renfro Endowed Lectureship Program with a gift in 2006. The primary purpose of the endowment is to provide support to cultivate and enhance the cultural and community enrichment offerings in northern Oklahoma to include lecture and performance series at Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa and in the Ponca City area.

“News You Can Use”

NOC has announced a new podcast, “News You Can Use.”

The podcast can be found at <https://www.noc.edu/about-noc/nocnews/news-you-can-use/>.

The podcast, created by Dr. Frankie Wood-Black, Division Chair for Engineering, Physical Sciences, and Process Technology, was funded through a NOC Presidential Partner Grant.

Dr. Wood-Black said the podcast will feature a wide range of topics.

“This series of podcasts will feature community interest stories like how does sports tourism impact our communities, how local entities work with students and other organizations to provide service learning opportunities, features about career topics such as interviews with local professionals, information from our faculty on topics ranging from animal care, lawn care, and health care, as well as updates about activities that NOC would like to share with the local area such as upcoming fine arts performances and sporting events,” she said.

“We hope that individuals will suggest topics and enjoy these podcasts as they are going to be produced by NOC students and faculty,” she added.

NOC offers COVID-19 Vaccine Incentive Contest

Northern Oklahoma College is offering a COVID-19 Vaccine Incentive Program for students and employees.

“The health of our students and employees in our NOC Family is of critical importance,” said NOC President Dr. Clark Harris. “As the cases decreased this summer many people dropped their guard to COVID-19, although we are learning that the variants have increased transmission rates and that people that are testing positive is back to the November 2020 levels. We have learned that people that are vaccinated are less likely to become infected, and if infected the severity of their illness is greatly reduced.”

“NOC wants to help keep you healthy, keep you learning in the classrooms, and allow you to stay active in college athletics and activities,” Harris added. “We can best accomplish this by having as many people vaccinated as possible at all NOC campuses. We are incentivizing this by creating a COVID-19 Vaccination Incentive

Contest.”

A student from each campus of the contest will receive a 65-inch Smart TV and another student will receive a 32-inch Smart TV. One employee from each campus will receive a $500 Pre-Paid Visa while another employee will receive a $200 Pre-Paid Visa.

Students and employees may enter through Oct. 6.

He said the goal of NOC COVID-19 Vaccination Incentive Contest is to substantially increase the number of fully vaccinated people who are teaching, working, learning, socializing, and living on our campuses.

Below are vaccine incentive details and frequently asked questions for both students and employees at Northern Oklahoma College.

Vaccinations may be scheduled through the Kay County Health Department.

NOC Study Abroad Opportunities

Northern Oklahoma College Global Education and World Geography Instructor Wade Watkins announced seven opportunities to study overseas at NOC.

"One aspect of the college experience students may not have considered, or even heard about, is traveling abroad with a NOC faculty member or two on a short-term study abroad program, where students explore an amazing corner of the world while earning academic credit towards a degree," Watkins said. "It's a fantastic way to earn college credit hours while gaining valuable knowledge and experience from exposure to a new country and culture. And it's easier and more affordable than students think."

Watkins said NOC has taken more than a thousand students on short-term study abroad programs, to 39 countries, on all seven continents. And for 2022, NOC is offering seven global education programs to choose from. They are:

March 11-18/spring break: ENGLAND & SCOTLAND – 3 optional credit hours of humanities/international dimension

May 18-26: THE ALPS! – 3 optional credit hours of humanities/international dimension

May 21-28: CUBA – 3 optional credit hours of humanities/international dimension

May 29-June 10: NEW ZEALAND – 3 optional credit hours of humanities/international dimension

June 18-30: NOC BALI SUMMER PROGRAM – 7 credit hours (4 lab science + 3 humanities/international dimension)

July 3-15: NOC DUBLIN SUMMER PRO-

GRAM – 6 credit hours (6 humanities/international dimension)

July 17-29: NOC LONDON SUMMER PROGRAM – 6 credit hours (6 humanities/international dimension)

"We hope you have a wonderful semester and give some thought to traveling the world to earn a few of your college credits," Watkins added. "Students will definitely gain some valuable global experience and knowledge, which will undoubtedly expand their personal, professional, and academic opportunities. Many of NOC's past participants have noted that their study abroad program was their most influential experience while in college."

Non-NOC students can join the program as well and earn college credits to transfer to their home institutions. And any of the above programs marked with an asterisk (*) mean that they are one of NOC's Global Community Programs, which means they are open to students and non-students (the credit hours are optional), so friends or family members can join the global adventure.

Watkins said that space is very limited – so definitely check out the PDF flyers and links on our NOC Global Education website: www.noc.edu/global - and give NOC Global Education a like on Facebook or Instagram (@NOCglobal). If you have questions, or need additional information, feel free to contact me via email at wade.watkins@noc.edu.
