Grammy award winning songwriter Jimmy Webb appeared at Northern Oklahoma College last Tuesday as part of the NOC Renfro Lectureship Series.

Webb played a 90-minute set and then participated in a 30-minute Q&A Session with NOC students and audience members.

The event was sponsored by the Carl and Carolyn Renfro Endowed Lectureship Program and Northern Oklahoma College.

The Oklahoma native, has written songs that transcend generations and genres including Wichita Lineman, MacArthur Park, By the Time I Get to Phoenix, and Didn't We.

A Motown-trained composer, Webb writes all of his own lyrics and music and is the only hit maker to have scored songs on the Pop, Country, R&B, Rap, Disco and New Age charts.

NOC Foundation establishes Mom and Pop Allen Scholarship Fund

The Northern Oklahoma College Foundation, Inc. acknowledges the establishment of the Mom and Pops Allen Scholarship Fund.

Earl and Roberta Allen served as Directors of Boehme Hall on the Tonkawa campus from 1989-1996. They were affectionately known as Mom and Pops to hundreds of NOC students. Mom and Pops loved each student as their own and thought of all who were associated with NOC as family.

Through the generous support of their children Dirk Allen and Sherri Whitehead as well as other family and friends, the scholarship will assist students from the Deer Creek-Lamont school district or mothers pursuing their edu-

“Mom and Pop Allen impacted so many students’ life while serving as dorm parents in Boehme Hall,” said Sheri Snyder, Vice President for Development and Community Relations. “We are appreciative of the family for creating the endowed scholarship in their memory to continue to benefits NOC Tonkawa students living in campus housing.”

Earl was a graduate of Deer Creek High School and Roberta was a graduate of Lamont High School. After retirement, they made their home in Lamont where they were able to enjoy children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Steichen children add to Steichen Family Music Scholarship

The children of Bob and Margaret Steichen honor their parent's memory with a significant endowed donation to the Steichen Family Music Scholarship.

The scholarship was established by Bob and the Steichen children after the passing of Margaret in 2019. The permanently restricted endowment assists students participating in vocal, music theatre, or instrumental music on the Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa location.

"We are truly grateful for this memorial scholarship endowment," said Sheri Snyder, Vice President for Development and Community Relations. "The Steichen family legacy will continue through this lasting gift and will continue to help many music students attending NOC Tonkawa for years to come."

Margaret was the first in her family to graduate from college, and Bob taught at Northern for over twenty years. Through their 66 years of marriage they instilled the importance of education and giving back to each of their six children, who are all graduates of Northern. Bob and Margaret were always avid supporters of

Bob and Margaret Steichen

NOC and especially the fine arts program.

They always made time to enjoy the student's performances and they were instrumental in assisting with the Gala during its 24 years on campus.

The impact of this donation will honor the memory of Bob and Margaret and will leave a lasting legacy that will support Northern students for generations to come.

NOC students attend Pre-Engineering Workshop at Tonkawa

Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa held a Pre-Engineering Workshop Friday, March 4 at the Crowder Science Hall at NOC.

Twenty-eight NOC students from the Tonkawa, Stillwater and Enid campuses participated in the workshop.

Cody Mann, NOC's Bell Program contact, presented materials regarding the Bell program and the economics of figuring out what is needed for the costs to continue the upper division education. Payton Malcolm, a former PLC student and recently graduated from Minnesota State University, and Veronica Ramirez, a current Bell Student were the primary presenters for the resume and professionalism portion of the program. Corbin Crowder and Jayden Sharp, current Bell Students who are completing Co-Op internships in the area, also stopped in briefly during the day.

Dr. Frankie Wood-Black stated "this workshop was designed to help our students learn what is needed to succeed throughout their educational careers to allow them to be productive in the future. The idea behind the workshop was to hear from others what helped them prepare for the workforce, provide information about senior level courses, and what they can be doing right now to prepare and gain experience in these critical career fields. This workshop helped the students to plan for the future and to experience what types of opportunities may be available to them."

The Bell Program is an ABET accredited upper division engineering transfer program for students coming from a community college or equivalent education experience at a university seeking a Bachelor of Science in Engineering degree. This program model allows students to graduate with 2.5 years of engineering experience. The first half-year is called the Bell Academy which is an intensive growth phase where students learn to work in industry by completing design projects, taking technical courses, and developing professional skills. The following two years are spent taking courses remotely while having the opportunity to work as engineers full time in industry for up to 24 months.

A planned rocket launch had to be scrapped due to high winds and the potential fire danger, but an alternate date is being planned. Each student at the Friday NOC workshop received a photo for their resume's and/or Linked In profiles. The program was partially funded by a NOC Presidential Partner grant.

'Power Up Your Summer' workshops scheduled at NOC in June

Students who have just completed the 8th Grade and would like to have a fun summer experience focusing on Oklahoma's fastest-growing energy sector may attend the Northern Oklahoma College's "Power Up Your Summer" workshops.

During the week of June 13, NOC will be hosting three one-day science and technology workshops where students will be introduced to various forms of energy, including electricity, wind, hydropower, and solar.

Students will participate in design projects that will allow them to see how different types of energy are transformed to allow for energy to be transported to their homes. Some of the activities planned include building and designing wind turbines, solar powered cars, and solar fountains. Students will be able to "Power-Up their Summer" while learning about electricity and electric circuits.

The experience is being paid for by a grant from the Oklahoma State Higher Education Regents, so there is no cost to the student, but students must apply to be considered for the academy and space is limited.

The application can be found on the NOC Website at <https://bit.ly/3vN0TCD> and is due by March 31. Students will be selected at random from the received applications, and will be notified by April 8, if selected.

NOC Enid, Northwestern campuses develop partnership program to help with teacher shortage

There continues to be a teacher shortage in the State of Oklahoma so the Enid campuses for Northwestern Oklahoma State University and Northern Oklahoma College are partnering to do something about it.

A fast-track course of study for completion of the elementary education degree has been developed for the students at these two institutions of higher learning to meet the specific needs of our Enid area community. This program will allow Enid campus students to earn an associate's degree and a bachelor's degree in three and a half years, enabling them to be in the classroom and teaching more quickly than they could through traditional programs.

"A student needs to enter this program at the very beginning of the coursework to benefit from the fast-track initiative," said Dr. Christee Jenlink, associate dean of education and professor of education at Northwestern, adding that students will be taking courses simultaneously at Northwestern-Enid and NOC-Enid.

"As Oklahoma is facing a teacher shortage, this program allows students to obtain their degrees faster while still receiving the same great quality education for which Northern and Northwestern are known," said Tiffany Meacham, Enid academic adviser for elementary education at NOC.

The fast-track program will meet current standards for educator preparation so that completers have the knowledge and skills necessary to become highly effective educators who are ready to support the learning needs of Oklahoma's students.

Jenlink noted that as a state requirement, the students will continue to complete their student teaching assignments in their final semester of school.

"We are very excited about this partnership," said Dr. Bo Hannaford, executive vice president at Northwestern. "We feel this gives opportunities in Enid for teacher candidates to participate in innovative programs while meeting the education needs in northwest Oklahoma and the state."

Northwestern and NOC will be having advisement sessions regarding this fast-track program at the NOC Enid campus in Montgomery Hall and in the lobby of the Zollars Building from 8 a.m. to noon on March 28-29 and April 18-19.

To learn more about this program, contact Mr. Jeremy Hise, vice president at NOC Enid, at (580) 548-2393 or jeremy.hise@noc.edu; or Dr. Josh Hawkins, assistant professor of education at Northwestern-Enid, at (580) 213-3182 or jlhawkins@nwosu.edu.
