

Pickens Learning Commons Grand Opening Oct. 12

The Pickens Learning Commons is receiving the final touches and NOC will host the grand opening on Wednesday, Oct. 12.

The Pickens Learning Commons is the transformation of the Vineyard Library at Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa to include library services, the testing center, tutoring services, career and transfer services, and the Cultural Engagement Center (CEC).

The space brings several services together for the convenience of students. The space also includes enhanced technology resources, distributed individual and collaborative study spaces, and two stunning murals totaling 100'x20' by artist Yatika Starr Fields, commissioned by the Hugh and Dr. S. J. Pickens Museum. The museum had earlier commissioned two murals in the CEC by Fields, that were completed in June 2021. There are over 80 pieces of art in the Pickens Learning Commons, which make it one of the most significant art collections on display in northern Oklahoma.

President Clark Harris said, "The entire transformation has been funded by external funding, including a generous donation by the Hugh and Dr. S. J. Pickens Museum. Mr. Hugh Pickens's desire to help NOC to be able to modernize the library into a 21st century collaborative study environment for the NOC students is incredibly heartwarming."

"We are so proud of our partnership with Hugh Pickens and the Doctor Pickens Museum, said NOC Vice President for Development and Executive Director to the NOC Foundation Sheri Snyder. "We are profoundly grateful for friends such as the Pickens who continue to share their gifts with us."

significant project of the Building a Better NOC initiative. The Building a Better NOC initiative has received extensive feedback from students, faculty, staff and community members on small and large ways to improve the college experience for Northern Oklahoma College students, employees and the community.

“The library at NOC Tonkawa was at a pivotal crossroads with rows and rows of outdated books not being used by today’s students and there was a need for a modernized library with individual and small group study areas in a dynamic environment,” said Dr. Clark Harris. “The library has benefited from a reduction of outdated books, a fresh open feel in the entire library, a new inviting entrance with a smaller circulation desk, new carpet, newly painted walls, upgraded technology resources, new furniture and inspiring art on the walls. This project is a perfect example of connecting NOC’s core values of personalized education, continuous improvement and community and civic engagement into one transforming project.”

The come and go grand opening will be Oct. 12, from 3:30 p.m. – 5 p.m. with remarks and a ribbon cutting by the Tonkawa Chamber of Commerce set for 4 p.m. The event is open to the public.

Roustabouts to perform at Tonkawa Full Moon Concert Oct. 9

The “NOC Roustabouts” will command the stage for the final Full Moon Concert of the season, Sunday, October 9 in Tonkawa Centennial Park, 301 East Grand in Tonkawa.

For this final concert in the 2022 series, Northern Oklahoma College and NOC Foundation joins North Central Oklahoma Arts Council and Heart in the Park Committee to sponsor this event on the night of the full moon.

The popular student ensemble will perform two sets: ’21 Anthems and Iconic 70s. Additionally, there will be solos by current Roustabouts and guest appearances by NOC Roustabout alumni. A Northern tradition since 1964, the group travels extensively giving students the opportunity to gain performance experience while representing NOC statewide and beyond.

The family-friendly 2-hour outdoor concert begins at 6:30 p.m. at the Heart in the Park Pavilion and is free to all. NOC is supporting this community event and will host an information booth with giveaways, bottled water and games.

Since bench seating in the park is limited, the public is invited to bring lawn chairs or blankets. Pets on leashes are welcome and restroom facilities are located across the street in the Santa Fe Depot.

Throughout the evening, concert goers may walk the world’s only heart-shaped labyrinth, and the evening concludes with the traditional group howl at the full moon.

Fine Arts' presentation 'Three Sisters' on stage at the KPAC through Sunday

The Northern Oklahoma College Division of Fine Arts presents "Three Sisters" by Anton Chekhov in a new version by Tracy Letts Oct. 6-9 at the Kinzer Performing Arts Center.

Showtimes Oct. 6-8 are 7:30 p.m. and Oct. 9 at 2 p.m.

The play is directed by Emily Rose Parman.

"Thank you for joining us for the first show of a new season, and NOC's first foray into the works of Anton Chekhov," Parman said.

"Three Sisters has had a special place in my heart since I first explored it as a designer in 2014. When I was considering plays for this year, the sense of constraint and longing felt by the Prozorov siblings really spoke to me.

We can all relate to the loss of our pre-pandemic lives, the constraints of lock down, and the longing to return to a sense of normalcy in our lives. But in a very real way our old normal no longer exists. We must find our way to a new life, and a new normal, just as the Prozorov's must do.

In envisioning this production, I took a relatively traditional approach. As this is NOC's first Chekhov piece, my goal was to give the students as authentic an experience as I could within the bounds of our rehearsal process. They have risen to the challenge and then some.

I would like to thank everyone in the Performing Arts department for welcoming me back for a second year. It is my delight to be back with these students, and I can't wait for all of you to witness their incredibly hard work on this classic masterpiece."

The cast is as follows:

Olga Prozorova--Regan Clapper, Masha Prozorova--Mallory Kyler, Irina Prozorova--Emma Valgora, Andrey Prozorov-- Nicholas Kelly, Colonel Vershinin-- David Miller, Baron Tuzenbach-- Kira Pendleton, Kulygin --Nikolas Hoecker, Chebutykin-- Amberlynn Kelly, Solyony --Christopher Thompson, Natasha--Alee Hunt, Anfisa--Mikaila Kraus, Ferapont--Jennifer Morales, Fedotik--Luke Mchenry, Rode--Raven Bruce, Violinist--Jaryd Hinch

Admission is free, children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

Celebrating Hispanic Heritage Month

by Mary Ann McCoy
NOC Diversity Committee

A brief history: This observation began in 1968 under President Lyndon Johnson as Hispanic Heritage Week. President Ronald Reagan expanded it in 1988 to include a 30-day period, starting on September 15th and ending on October 15. September 15 was chosen as the starting point for Hispanic Heritage Month because it is the anniversary of independence of five Latin American countries: Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, and Nicaragua. In addition, Mexico and Chile celebrate their independence days on September 16 and September 18, respectively.

The Diversity Committee continues to spotlight Hispanic Heritage Month in week two by highlighting those Hispanic Americans in the field of Arts and Entertainment.

Rita Moreno

Rita Moreno has been a household name for decades, ever since she captivated audiences with her fierce portrayal of Anita in 1961's West Side Story. Moreno would go on to cement her name in history by winning the Best Supporting Actress Oscar for the role, becoming the first-ever Hispanic American woman to win an Academy Award. Moreno is of Puerto Rican descent.

Jennifer Lopez

Jennifer Lopez was born in the Bronx, New York, in 1969 to Puerto Rican parents who supported her ambitions to become a singer, taking singing and dancing lessons starting at 5 years old. Lopez remains one of the most notable Hispanic American figures in the movie and music industry, often earning the status of "triple threat." She also earned critical acclaim for her role in 2019's Hustlers. Jenny from the Block" has always paid tribute to her Latin roots throughout her success.

Lin-Manuel Miranda

Few Hispanic Americans have made a bigger impact in recent pop culture than Lin-Manuel Miranda. Miranda was born in 1980 in the Washington Heights neighborhood of New York City to Puerto Rican parents. Miranda won his first Tony Award that summer after the show received 13 nominations, earning four wins including Best Musical.

More information can be found on Hispanic Heritage Month at the following:

www.archives.gov/news/topics/hispanic-heritage-month

Gloria Estefan

Singer Gloria Estefan is often synonymous with Latin music in the United States. Estefan was born in Cuba in 1957. The Estefan's family fled to Miami during the Cuban Revolution in 1959. Her lengthy career has earned her three Grammy Awards and a Presidential Medal of Freedom under President Obama in 2015, as well as the Kennedy Center Honors in 2017. The musical On Your Feet, telling the story of her and Emilio's life, premiered on Broadway in 2015.

Tonkawa nursing student honored by area health care foundation

Haylee Rogers has been selected as the Community Health Foundation's September Healthcare Professional of the Month. Haylee is a part-time LPN at both Dr. John Holden's office and at Precise Home Health, as well as a full-time nursing student at NOC.

She was nominated by Amy Gory who said that she worked with Haylee for two years and that Haylee "is an excellent nurse to her patients that she comes in contact with and goes above and beyond to ensure quality healthcare for them." Amy went on to say, "I have witnessed Haylee numerous times go the extra mile for her patients and co-workers. She is very intelligent, and is a current nursing student at NOC. I am proud that Haylee is a dedicated nurse to Ponca City and surrounding areas. She takes the time to listen and understand each patient's individual needs. She is always striving to further enhance her clinical skills and knowledge."

Haylee graduated from Tonkawa High School in 2012. She said, "after graduating high school, I was driving to my minimum wage job when I witnessed a car accident on the highway in front of me. I was in a panic and I didn't know what to do. Luckily, a nurse was headed to work too stopped at the scene. She ran over to the vehicles and immediately took action. She was so calm, confident, and thorough. She changed the entire situation. I studied her as she assessed their injuries, kept the victims safe by protecting their necks, reassured them, and assigned tasks to bystanders like placing a call to 911. This event weighed on my heart and changed my life. I knew then that I wanted to be present on the best days and worst days of peoples' lives. Nurses get the honor of watching life enter the world and holding the hands of humans exiting the world. We get to be the ones who listen, care, provide, protect, educate, and hold. How awesome is that?!" After that, Haylee became a certified nurse assistant and then a certified medical assistant. She worked at Via Christi Nursing Home and then went to nursing school at Pioneer Technology and became an LPN. She then worked for Dr. Holden where she learned more about medications, therapies, and procedures and he motivated her to keep learning and growing, thus encouraging her to work towards a registered nurse license.

Haylee has received two scholarships from the Community Health Foundation to assist in her nursing education at NOC. After obtaining her registered nurse license, Haylee hopes to work in a local ICU. In her spare time, Haylee likes to spend as much time as possible with her husband and three-year-old daughter.
