

NOC Enid hosts Veterans Day program

Enid Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) Regent Cynthia Smith was the keynote speaker at the Northern Oklahoma College Enid Veterans Day Ceremony Friday.

Dr. Mary Ann McCoy, Chairman of the NOC Diversity Committee opened the program and introduced Smith who spoke of her lineage in the military including her father who served in the Pacific Theatre in World War II. He was part of the "Lost Battalion" at the Leyte Gulf in the Philippines.

Smith's husband Robert, spoke of his service in the Viet Nam War where he served as a clerk starting in 1968.

NOC Vice President for Enid Jeremy Hise said that, "It's always a good day to thank a veteran and we can never thank you enough for your service."

NOC President Dr. Clark Harris provided the closing remarks saying, "I thank you for protecting America and the world. We are forever in your debt and can never say thank you enough."

Smith played the anthem for each branch of the military with each veteran standing for their specific song.

The event closed with a rendition of "Taps."

Mass Communication Club offers real world media experience

by Misty McBlair
Red & Silver Review Staff Writer

Mass Communications is a study program in Arts offered at the Tonkawa and Enid Campuses of NOC. There are many directions you could go in the field of Mass Communications such as, News Reporter/Writer, Editor, On-Air Broadcast Talent, Information Specialist, Photographer, Photojournalist, Sports Reporter, Technical Writer, or Podcaster.

A degree in Mass Comm at NOC helps the student enter the immediate workforce or obtain an advanced degree. Strong communication skills are among the top quality’s employers look for in prospective employees which makes a Mass Comm degree the most versatile.

NOC Tonkawa and Enid offers many hands-on opportunities for the student to experience while working towards their degree. Opportunities include the only community college on-site radio station, 90.7 FM and journalism staff for the Maverick in Tonkawa and The Red and Silver Review in Enid.

With an Associates in Arts in Mass Communications students will have valuable knowledge and experience in modern media, from Broadcast Journalism to Advertising. NOC offers real-life experience to students to learn the skills needed to achieve a great career.

Mass Comm Club is a bonus for students in the Mass Comm field. Purpose of the club is to engage Mass Comm students in activities to promote Mass Communications on both the Tonkawa and Enid campuses.

Club members can be any student interested in any field of Mass Comm and does not have to major in Mass Comm. Sponsors are Mass Comm instructor Dean Percy and Student Newspaper Advisor Scott Cloud. For more information, please contact the sponsors.
