NOC student Kelsey Theis crowned 2022-2023 Miss American Angus

by Peyton Schmitt

Northern Oklahoma College Tonkawa student Kelsey Theis of Leavenworth, Kansas, recently achieved something many young girls in the Angus breed dream of — she was named Miss American Angus.

Theis was crowned at the annual American Angus Association® Awards Dinner and Reception Sunday, Nov. 6 and will represent the breed as an advocate and role model in the coming year. With three older siblings involved in the National Junior Angus Association, Theis has been around the breed her entire life.

Theis is the daughter of Jerry and Tonya Theis is obtaining a degree in animal science and is a member of the livestock judging team. After graduation, she plans to pursue a career in veterinary medicine or accounting.

“My first birthday was actually at nationals [National Junior Angus Show] in Denver,” Theis said. “So as long as I can remember, I’ve always been involved.”

Growing up in the industry, many of Theis’s inspirations served as Miss American Angus. She said to join the ranks of this group of female leaders she looked up to as a young girl is an honor.

“It’s very surreal just watching other girls who have gotten this opportunity,” Theis said. “Some of them have been my biggest mentors or role models and it’s crazy to consider myself on the same level as them in that position. I’m just very excited and honored to get to do this.”

Throughout her time in the red coat, Theis hopes to serve the breed well and inspire young women to believe in themselves. She knows the responsibility that comes with the title and looks forward to taking on the role with enthusiasm.

Kelsey Theis, Leavenworth, Kansas, was crowned Miss American Angus at the 2022 Angus Convention in Salt Lake City, Utah. (American Angus Association)

“I just want to do the best job I can representing the breed, and I want to make sure I have an influence on younger members so they have the same experience with me that I did with past Miss American Angus titleholders,” Theis said. “I just hope to inspire them and show them they can do anything they set their mind to.”

Look for Theis in the crown, red coat and sash during her travels this year. For more information about the American Angus Auxiliary-sponsored contest, visit angusauxiliary.com.

NOC Livestream Banner Contest winners announced

Hayley Spaeth and Lena Black are the winners of the NOC Livestream Banner contest.

Spaeth is a freshman from Okeene, Oklahoma, while Black is a freshman from Ponca City. Both are Digital Media Institute majors. Each received a bag of NOC swag for their efforts.

The banners hang at NOC events in Tonkawa and Enid where the college is livestreaming events.

In the contest, students created banners using NOC logos and fonts from the NOC Graphic Standards Guide. Coaches from the Enid and Tonkawa campuses chose the winning design.

Mike Machia, Director of Information Technology and Brad Matson, Director of the Digital Media Institute made the announcement.

“Very proud of the hard work and dedication of all of my students,” Matson said. “Lena and Hayley did a fantastic job working on the

Friday December 16 th	NO FINAL EXAMS

Early evening and Night Classes Exams for these classes will be held during the final exam week on the day of the week of their regular meeting. See instructor for any changes.
Final Exam Overload: If a student has three or more final exams in one day, the student can request rescheduling. See instructor for more information.
Conflicts will be resolved on the basis of the: 1. Credit hours in the course, with the course carrying the most credit hours taking precedence. 2. Time of first class meeting in the week (as printed on the student's class schedule), with the class meeting first taking precedence.
Location: Exams will be in the regular place of meeting unless otherwise stated by the instructor.
Exceptions to this schedule may be requested by the instructor.
*OPI Students that have common finals should work with NDOC instructors to identify an alternate testing time if an overlap occurs.
