Northern Encounter set for Stillwater Oct. 4

Northern Oklahoma College Stillwater is hosting a Northern Encounter recruiting event on Wednesday, Oct. 4 from 9 a.m. – 11 a.m. at the NOC Classroom Building.

There will be door prizes, free SWAG, campus tour, meetings with faculty/staff, and a drawing for tuition waivers.

According to Vice President for Stillwater Dr. Marsh Howard, this event will be student-centered.

Howard said upon arrival, students will be provided a schedule, much like an average NOC student's schedule. After a brief welcome and introduction, students will disperse to classrooms throughout campus and will attend "mini-lectures" delivered by NOC faculty and Stillwater community stakeholders.

"Each of the four 10-15 minute "lectures," will focus on subjects closely related to our academic offerings, but will also showcase our outstanding faculty's passion projects, the quality of NOC instruction and what it feels like to be a student on our campus," Howard said.

"Mini-lecture" topics will range from deductive reasoning and critical thinking to forensic accounting. Also, a Q&A Panel covering a range of college, career and community topics with Stillwater community stakeholders, including State Representative Trish Ranson.

"Our plan is to give visiting students a glimpse into the average day at NOC-Stillwater," Howard added. "We're confident that students attending this year's Northern Encounter will recognize the individual attention, direct and high-quality instruction they receive on our campus and will return as part of the NOC Gateway family in the fall of 2024."

Registration is from 8:45 a.m. – 9 a.m. with the event ending at 11 a.m. Students can register for Northern Encounter HERE.

Anyone interested in more information can contact NOC's Enrollment and Recruitment Office at 580.628.6910. The NOC Stillwater Classroom is at 615 N. Monroe.

Enid planetarium show Oct. 3

The Mackie Planetarium on the Northern Oklahoma College Enid campus will present a planetarium show Tuesday, Oct. 3 at 7 p.m.

Visitors will be introduced to the night sky over Enid and point out constellations and planets in the evening sky. They will also see the locations of over 3000 stars with known planetary systems.

"We will point out a star in the constellation Cygnus the swan with a very unusual light curve that may tell us that something is in control over the star's energy output," said planetarium director Fritz Osell.

The planetarium show for this month is "Two small pieces of Glass," which will feature the history of the development of telescopes and use by amateurs

Visitors will also see a cartoon about the Greek myths of Perseus and Andromeda.

Osell also teaches astronomy at NOC Enid.

The show is free for the public but non-perishable foods are accepted as a donation.

The show is for all ages.

Art exhibit closes Oct. 6 at KPAC

Oklahoma high school students are displaying artwork at Eleanor Hays Art Gallery, NOC Tonkawa, from Sept. 5- Oct. 6 in conjunction with the Oklahoma Arts Institute's Tour de Quartz exhibition.

The forty paintings and photographs featured in Tour de Quartz were created during the 2023 Oklahoma Summer Arts Institute (OSAI), a prestigious arts academy held each summer at Quartz Mountain State Park & Lodge in southwestern Oklahoma.

During their time at OSAI, students are immersed in one of eight artistic disciplines and taught by nationally renowned artists. Former faculty members include winners of the Pulitzer Prize and the Academy, Tony, Emmy, and Grammy awards. Visual artist Richard Hull of the Art Institute of Chicago served as drawing & painting instructor for the 2023 Institute, while Atlanta-based photographer Isaac Diggs instructed photography students.

This summer, drawing and painting students received in-depth training in acrylic painting and the photography cohort explored digital and film photography. The 2023-24 Tour de Quartz exhibit reflects the students' OSAI experience, with each student artist represented by one piece of artwork.

Students are selected for OSAI through competitive statewide auditions, and every accepted student attends the program on full scholarship. Auditions are held online in January and February. For more information, visit oaiquartz.org.

Eleanor Hays Art Gallery, located in the Kinzer Performing Arts Center, is open 1 p.m. - 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and during evening and weekend events in the KPAC Auditorium. Admission is free.

Contact gallery director Audrey Schmitz at 580-628-6670 or audrey.schmitz@noc.edu for more information.

For more information about the Oklahoma Arts Institute or the Tour de Quartz, visit oaiquartz.org or call (405) 605-7500.

The Oklahoma Arts Institute is a private, nonprofit organization founded in 1977, with a mission to provide exceptional multidisciplinary arts experiences that develop individual talent and inspire a lifelong passion for the arts. In addition to the Summer Arts Institute, OAI administers a series of continuing education workshops for adults every fall.

Soccer teams reaching the half way mark

NOC Soccer has started their conference schedule as the season reaches the midway point. The Lady Jets (6-3-2) are 5-2-2 in conference play while the men (4-3-2) are 3-2-1 in conference action.

NOC's women are in 4th place in the conference while the men are in 4th place as well.

The Lady Jets shut out Redlands 3-0 in their latest action while both teams are at home against Eastern Sunday afternoon at the Advance Soccer Complex.
