Graduation information

By Mallory Riley, Maverick Editor

If you or someone you know is graduating this semester, here is a helpful list of what to do to prepare for the big commencement! First you will need to get a degree audit with your advisor, then you will need to apply for the graduation commencement ceremony on your my-NOC account.

The application information will include your name and how you want it on your diploma, your NOC identification number, SSN, address and where you want your diploma mailed to, date of completion, year you will graduate, if you have attended other collages, and which campus you attended for most of your classes.

Cap and gowns will be in stock the first part of April. You will receive an email from the bookstore for instructions to pick up your cap and gowns, invitations, and other accessories.

May 2 will be graduation/commencement practice. The time is to be determined.

May 4 is official Commencement/Graduation ceremonies. There will be two ceremonies, Tonkawa's Commencement will be held in the morning, while Enid's Commencement will be held in the afternoon. Stillwater students may attend either campus. Times are to be determined.

Nursing students' pinning's ceremony times are to be determined for both campuses' commencements.

If you any questions or concerns please contact Diana Watkins, the Vice president for academic affairs at dianawatkins@noc.edu, or call at 580.628.6210.

Alumni & Benefit Roustabouts Show

By Virginia Jones

Live band, singing, dancing, and pyrotechnics-what more could you ask for?

Northern Oklahoma College's Roustabout performance group gives the above and more in an exciting show. The Roustabouts is made up of students from NOC Tonkawa that put months of effort into creating an exciting experience they tour around Oklahoma.

The Northern Oklahoma College Roustabouts are hosting their annual Benefit Show Saturday, April 6. The show is at the Kinzer Performing Arts Center at NOC Tonkawa at 7:30 p.m. Tickets for the show are $10.

This year's benefit show is especially exciting with the Roustabouts celebrating their 60th anniversary. To commemorate this special occasion the Roustabouts will take several cuts from the many albums past Roustabouts have recorded to make a new performance!

The Kinzer Performing Arts Center lobby will also have several items of memorabilia of the Roustabouts throughout the years since 1964.

The audience will be able to view the scrapbooks and other memorabilia before the show.

The alumni will be celebrated in the Alumni Benefit Banquet before the evening performance.

Past roustabout director Dineo Heilmann will also be celebrated at the Alumni Benefit Show.

The directors and students have worked very hard to put on a spectacular show to honor the alumni and raise money for the program.

Show your support to these hard-working people and experience a wild night of entertainment on April 6th!

DMI Short Films Completion

By Carly Light

"This one was probably one of the best ones we've had. I started about 15 years ago. The whole purpose is they have 48 hours to create a movie start to finish. It's intense. Really forced creativity. No room for procrastination." states Mr. Brad Matson, Digital Media Institute Director on the Tonkawa campus.

The 2-day short film project is an NOC tradition that takes the Freshman and Sophomores from inside the lab, to using all imagination and originality, as well as teamwork.

The group was split up into three teams, each with six participants on a team. These students mixed in from both years, as well as some alumni to join this film festival project.

The process for these short films starts with each team assigning a director along with the film crew. Mr. Matson's charming hats are how these students pick their fate- one with movie lines, the other with the choice of two props to choose from at random. Mr. Matson noticed a lot of good come from this year's participants, like working together at different ages and experiences, that everyone could learn from each other, which he found to be a huge positive.

Some freshman students also commented on how much fun and engaging the project was with their team. They enjoyed this project because of how easy-going and accommodating their group of mostly Sophomores was, and that it made it much easier to work together and have fun doing it.

The whole department puts on an annual "Epic Short Film Festival" that all the flicks will be shown on May 3rd, which is when the winners will be announced. It is a competition with prizes- 1st place gets $150 among the group, 2nd place with $100, and 3rd place as well as audience choice gets $50.

He also talked of how entertaining the 48-hour films are, because the students start from nothing, and with such limited time, come up with the most interesting satire from a five-minute film.
