Youth serves for Jets Softball

The NOC Enid Jets Softball Team opens the 2025 season in Weatherford (TX) for four games in the Weatherford Tournament.

The Jets are under second year head coach Steve Kissel. The Jets were 17-36 in Kissel’s first year. “We have a young team but are very talented and athletic,” Kissel said. “We have a chance to have a very good year.”

Kissel said the strength of the team is sophomore Lakelynn Thompson, the Jets top starting pitcher.

“I like out pitching depth and along with our speed and power on offense,” Kissel said.

Youth is Kissel’s biggest concern.

“We have 22 freshmen so the key is how fast we mature as a team,’ he said.

The Jets line-up includes Cassidy Cook, Morgan Hayes, and Sonia Mena in the outfield. On the infield, the Jets will start Albaney Pritchard, Brylee Davis, Zoie Zachary, and Emily Gregory. Shelbi Pearson will catch along with Hayden Houlcomb who will catch and play in the outfield.

Working in the circle will be Thompson along with fellow sophomores Caitlyn Byrne and Giselle Peralta and freshmen KK Harjo and Lillyan Ball.

“I think the region is wide open,” Kissel said. Connors finished strong last year, Seminole is always good along with Eastern, NEO and Rose. If a team gets hot at the tournament, they can win it like Connors did last year.”

Mavs' Baseball celebrates a win in 2024

Maverick baseball starts Saturday

The NOC Mavs baseball team opens the season this weekend as the Mavs host Iowa Lakes (IA) in doubleheaders Saturday and Sunday starting at noon each day.

The Mavs are under the tutelage of second year head coach who guided the Mavs to a 42-19 record, the Mavs reached the finals of the Region 2 Tournament.

Keeran is excited about this year's team.

"This group loves competing, they're a competitive bunch and looking forward to playing another team," Keeran said. "We're very balanced and have good depth. We had a great fall, and got some guys healthy. To have (sophomore catcher) Blade Carver (Preseason NJCAA Division 2 Player of the Year) is a nice thing too."

In looking at the team's strength, Keeran pointed to the starting rotation.

"Although we had the #1 offense in the country last year for our level and are known for our offense, our starting pitching 1-4 is incredibly talented," Keeran said. "All four are committed to very good four-year programs. (Camden) Edge, (Nakni) Anna, (Logan) Taylor, and (Jacob) Culp are as good as they get at this level.

They need to get better outing to outing though for us to get where we want to be."

The Mavs have to replace a number of position players from last year but Keeran isn't concerned.

"We just to need to get the early jitters out of the way and play free," he said.

The projected line-up for the Mavs includes Will Johnson (SS), Jadan Boyce (RF), Blade Carver (C), Christian Stratis (LF), Aidan Zakarewicz (DH), Joseph Canzoni (3B), Carson Taylor (2B), Hendrick Vandermeer/Kingston Hangartner (1B), and Eric Harper/Braylon Watson (CF). Others expected to contribute include Robert Evans (C), Bill McCarter (IF), Caleb Watkins (OF), and Bodie Amberson (IF).

The rotation will be Camden Edge, Nakni Anna, Logan Taylor, and Jacob Culp with Aidan Hansen set to close. Other bullpen pieces include Liam McKinney, Kaegan Baker, Evan Rollison, Garrett Folmar, Kolby Heskett, Rylan Newman, Grayson Brown, and Collin Berry.

"Region 2 is one of the toughest region in the nation," Keeran said. "it is extremely deep."

Jets Baseball celebrates a win in 2024

Jets baseball opens Saturday in Enid

The NOC Enid Jets open play in 2025 this weekend as the Jets host Des Moines Area Community College Saturday and Sunday with doubleheaders starting at noon each day.

The Jets are led by second year head coach Ryan Bay. Bay led the Jets to a 33-21 record.

“We are excited for the season,” Bay said. “We have a talented, hard working group of players.”

Bay said the strength of the Jets team is experience.

“We have several key returners combined with talented group of transfers makes us a very experienced team,” Bay said. “We have several guys who have tasted success at this level but that are hungry for more.”

Bay added that an area of concern is depth on the mound.

“We have a talented pitching staff,” Bay said. “But we need to stay healthy.”

The tentative lineup for the Jets includes Jhett Creel and Parker Jeffrey at catcher with Graham Hylton seeing time as well.

Cooper Smith (1B), Ivan Gomez/Gabe Glenn (2B), BJ Pierre, Noah Smith, and Gabe Glenn will all see time at third base. Jesse Ponce is set at shortstop with Rhen Rutledge, Ty Wilson, Pierre and Cale Wetwiska set to play the outfield. The designated hitter spot will be filled with all three catchers, Wetwiska, and Noah Smith.

The opening weekend rotation is Cale Wetwiska, Garrett Payne, Bennett Percival, and Ty Pankonin. Bullpen arms that could be potential starters include Jabe Schlehuber, Corbin Kwan, and Carlos Lopez.

The back end of the bullpen will be manned by Blake Limberg, Wyatt Rutledge, and Logan Wade.

“The region is always competitive,” Bay said. “This year won’t be any different.”

Mavs pitcher Jordan Johnson

Mavs softball opens play Tuesday

The NOC Mavs Softball team opens the regular season Tuesday as the Mavs host Southern Nazarene JV at 1 p.m.

The Mavs are under first year head coach Jeff Ray who comes to NOC from Blackwell High School.

“Coming off a strong first fall together I think we’ve finally started to believe that our best is good enough to compete with anyone,” Ray said. “We just need to bring it every time out. I know we will play hard and aggressively. And, I know we’ll play for each other. We don’t have a large roster so it will take everyone.”

Ray says the strength of this year’s team is all across the board.

“I think we’re good enough offensively to never be out of game and I think we have the potential to possibly be special defensively over the course of a season,” he added. “Pitching was an unknown coming in but if we can stay healthy, we will have four solid pitchers in the rotation with two lefties and two righties.”

Rays’ concern is depth.

“We only have 15 on the roster currently and we had some injuries in the fall,” he said. “We have to find a way to stay healthy this spring.”

Ray thinks the region is wide open.

“I expect Seminole to be Seminole again,” he said. “Rose has one very good arm and lots of 2nd year kids, but it will be down to who’s playing best and together when it counts.”

Tentatively, the Mavs will start Payton St. Andrews behind the plate, Macy Willing/Kaidence Calvert at first, Elyssa Kaniatobe at second base, Faith Williams at shortstop and Kerik Brown at third. Mikayla Arnold, Jules Leach, and Maggie Glasgow will man the outfield with Jadison Ackerman the designated player. Other contributors include Kailey Rich and Kayla Stover.

The pitching rotation will include Jordan Johnson, Makenzie Wilson, Kaidence Calvert, and Kennedy Zook.
