The www.noc.edu website includes a link to the Consumer Information, which provides a single access point to all federally-mandated reports and disclosures. As new policies and procedures related to Consumer Information and Students' Right to Know are modified and approved, they will be added to the appropriate publications and college website Consumer Information Link – www.noc.edu/consumerinformation. The Annual notice will be posted under Consumer Information as well as emailed to all NOC students and employees in August of each year.

Annual Safety and Fire Report

The Clery Act is a federal law that requires colleges and universities to publish an annual report on safety and security issues. This report contains statistics for the previous three years of reported crimes that occurred on college property owned or controlled by Northern Oklahoma College (NOC). The report also includes institutional policies concerning campus security, such as the policies concerning alcohol and drug use, crime prevention, the reporting of crimes, sexual assault, and other matters. The statistics indicate that NOC is an exceptionally safe environment for students as well as employees. Reference the Annual Safety and Fire Report Tonkawa and Enid 2024 for more information on report – Annual-Security-Report-2024-003.pdf. The NOC/OSU Gateway program in Stillwater should reference the Stillwater Annual Crime and Fire Safety Report 2024 – 2024-OSU-Security-and-Fire-Safety-Report.pdf.

Title IX

Northern Oklahoma College, as a public educational institution, must abide by Title IX regulations because it receives federal funding through federal financial aid programs used by students. Specifically, Title IX states: “No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.”

Both Title IX and College Policy prohibit discrimination in services or benefits offered by the College based upon gender and stipulate that any person (student, faculty, staff, or guest) who believes that discriminatory practices have been engaged in based upon gender should discuss these concerns and file informal or formal complaints of possible violations of Title IX with the Title IX Coordinator.

Title VII of the Civil Rights Act prohibits employment discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, and national origin. Title IX further supports Title VII with an emphasis on preventing sexual harassment and sexual violence. Any higher education employee who works with students has a federally-mandated responsibility to report possible incidents covered by this legislation. Some NOC Employees have been designated as responsible employees and as a result are expected to take mandatory annual training on Title VII and Title IX.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention

The Drug-Free Workplace Act which was passed by Congress in 1988 requires federal contractors and grantees to certify that the contracting agency will provide a drug-free workplace. The Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendment of 1989 (Public Law 101-226) requires institutions of higher education to adopt and implement a program to prevent the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol by students and employees. This policy is to amend the Policy Declaring a Drug-Free Workplace, adopted by the Northern Oklahoma College Board of Regents July 13, 1989, in order to comply with the statutory directive, Section 1213. This policy will be reviewed on a biannual basis to determine its effectiveness and implement changes as needed.

As set forth in local, state, and federal laws, and the rules and regulations of the College, Northern Oklahoma College prohibits the unlawful possession, use or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees in buildings, facilities, grounds or other property owned and/or controlled by the College or as part of college activities. Northern Oklahoma College will conduct biannual reviews of this policy/program to evaluate its effectiveness. The College will implement changes if needed to ensure that disciplinary sanctions are consistently enforced.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

In carrying out their assigned responsibilities, many offices at NOC collect and maintain information about students. Although these records belong to the College, both college policy and federal law accord students a number of rights concerning these records. The essence of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, also known as the Buckley Amendment, is to give a student the right to inspect his or her education records and to protect the privacy of these records.

Students have the right to inspect, review, and/or request an amendment to these records; consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information in these records; restrict disclosure of information designated as directory information that may be released without consent of the student; and file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education for alleged failure by NOC to comply with FERPA requirements.
